AT THE BROOKLYN THEATRES.

E. S. Willard at the Columbia Next Week.

"A Nutmeg Match" at the Park--Other Attractions.

At Col. Sinn's Park Theatre, Brooklyn, Monday evening, "A Nutmeg Match" will be given its first production in Brooklyn. It is a New England play and was written by William Haworth. A realistic scenic feature of the play is a steamship operated by a real engine, upon the stage. The play will be interpreted by a company which includes Miss Lizzie Evans, Helen Weatherly, Mrs. E. A. Eberle, Henry Hermon, David Wardell, William Lee and others.

E. S. Willard, supported by Miss Marie Burroughs, will occupy the stage at the Columbia Theatre next week, where he will present the following repertoire: Monday, Tuesday evening, "The Middleman," Wednesday evening, "A Fool's Paradise," Thursday, "John Noddy," Friday, "Judith," Saturday, "The Middleman," Sunday, "The Middleman." The play is a romantic Irish drama in five acts, which was seen at the Fourteenth Street Theatre, a New York, will be played next week at the Grand Opera House, where it will appear in the leading part, will sing several songs during the course of the performance. The scenery is said to be an exact reproduction of several places in Ireland. In the company are W. H. Power, Jr., E. L. Walter, Samuel Morton, Will H. Monahan, Adelaide Cushman, Nellie Cushman, Kitty Morton, Grace McConnell, Madge Alortman and others.

The production at the Amphion during the week, with matinees Wednesday and Saturday, will be Archibald Clavering, under the dramatization of "My Official Wife," in which Miss Minnie Seligman will appear as the vindictive Polish woman, who has determined to kill the czar. The play is exciting and stirring in strong situations. In the company are William P. Owen, Robert Livingston Cutting, Jr., (Miss Seligman's husband), Elsie Gorman and others.

"The Wanderer of America," the new drama, will be presented at the Amphion during the week. The play is a new drama, and we will reproduce it in its original color. It is a new drama, and we will reproduce it in its original color. It is a new drama, and we will reproduce it in its original color.

SEARING'S DOUBLE LIFE.

Was the Astoria Churchman an Unfaithful Spouse?

Founder of Flora Mission Accused of Courting Widow Schott.

LONG ISLAND CITY, L. I., March 18.—Joseph Searing, until recently was the superintendent of the Sunday-school of Trinity Methodist Church, at the corner of Crescent street and Grand avenue, of which Rev. W. S. Crammer is pastor.

After the death of his daughter, Flora, a year ago, he established the Flora Mission, on Fulton street, in her memory, and devoted his time in conducting this mission and looking after the Sunday-school of the Trinity Church.

Mrs. Schott, a prepossessing widow, who is a member of Trinity Church, recently told the pastor that some time ago Searing began to pay her marked attention and gave her a ring and a photograph of himself, as well as that of a woman which he said was his dead wife. Mrs. Schott says that Searing finally proposed to her, she told him that she could not marry him until she knew more about him. He told her, according to her statement, that he would marry her as soon as the dead wife was up.

One evening recently she went to the Flora Mission to see Mr. Searing, and at the door was met by a woman. When she inquired for Mr. Searing, this woman, who was his wife, replied:

"My husband is not here at present."

"Your husband? Is he a married man?" The two women then compared notes, and as a result Mrs. Schott went to Pastor Crammer.

The pastor and officers of the church informed Searing that if he would either leave to resign under a cloud or stand trial. He chose the former. The affair is now the talk of Astoria, and there is much speculation as to what action Mrs. Searing will take. Mrs. Schott threatens to prosecute him and even to inflict more serious bodily harm on him in case she gets the opportunity.

Sent a Cruel Mother to Jail.

In the Tombs Court today Justice Ryan committed sixty-year-old Henrietta Reyes, of 40 Hudson street, to the care of the Society, and sent the child's mother, Mrs. Mary Reyes, to the island for a month. The mother was charged with striking the girl on the head with a piece of board from which a nail projected, and the nail tore a big hole in the child's scalp.

Lamp Sets Fire to a Paint Shop.

A lamp upset in Edward Leaf's paint store, 107 Bedford avenue, Brooklyn, this morning, set fire to a pile of paper in the corner of the room. The fire spread rapidly, and before the blaze was put out the stock was damaged to the extent of $1,000 and the building $500.

YON SETS A CHINESE EXAMPLE.

The First Mongolian to Apply in Brooklyn for a Certificate.

He Thinks Cabinet Photographs Are Cheaper Than Lawyers.

The first Chinaman to apply for a certificate of residence at the Internal Revenue Collector's office in Brooklyn was Tom Yon, a laundryman, in Myrtle avenue, near Navy street.

"The principal difficulty the deputies encounter is in explaining to the Chinese men what is required. Even those who understand English pretend ignorance."

"Others are more polite, but on rare occasions they look upon deputies as intruders. In my opinion they will keep away from the office until they are told that they must register, or get out of the country, and then they will all flock here together."

MEN HELD FOR TWO ROBBERIES.

Joseph Dobbs Discharged and Re-arrested in Adams Street Court.

Justice Tighe, in the Adams Street Police Court, Brooklyn, today discharged Joseph Dobbs, of 101 High street, who was charged with breaking into R. K. Tracy's music store, 50 Court street.

Dobbs proved that on the night of the burglary he was attending to his duties as nurse at sailors' hall on a street island.

He was immediately re-arrested on a charge of having stolen hardware from James H. Landon, at 107 Bay, L. I.

Dobbs was arrested Monday with several other men at the High street house. Two of his companions confessed to having been in the house on the night of the robbery.

The applicant requested to bring witnesses, however, and is therefore not yet duly registered. When he left the office he promised to return with two credible friends, who will be asked to make affidavit that they are well acquainted with Tom Yon, and know that on May 5, last, he was a resident of this country.

He said the houses wanted him to fight and go to court, but that he was not afraid to go to court and would have no trouble.

Mr. Nichols hopes that, since Tom Yon has made the start, there will be a regular avalanche of Mongolians into his office, and that he will get the disagreeable job off his hands before May 1.

"There are about 100 Chinese in this district," he said, "and the deputies have notified all of them that they must register. The only thing that is holding them back is the advice of the storekeepers and others who are not required to register."

MATHEMATICAL JURORS.

Their Manner of Reaching a Verdict Under Consideration by the Court.

A novel method of arriving at a verdict in the jury-room came to light this morning before Justice Chubb, in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, in the case of William Hanson against the New York Standard Watch Company, to recover damages for being removed from his position.

The case was tried in February last before Justice Chubb, in the Circuit Court. The jury awarded a verdict of $100.

Counselor Marshall P. Stafford moved this morning to set aside the verdict on the ground that it was frequently obtained.

He presented the affidavit of Juror John Borum, who says that the jury was out a long time and could not come to a decision.

Borum proposed that each juror should make an affidavit as to how the verdict was reached, and that the court should then decide whether or not to set aside the verdict.

Justice Chubb refused the motion, and the jury returned a verdict of $100.

HE PLAYED "BOYNE WATER."

As a Result an Irishman and an Orangeman Are Fined.

John Lynch, aged thirty-five, no home, in a prophetic manner, he was arrested on a charge of playing "Boyne Water" in the streets of Brooklyn.

Justice Chubb, in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, today fined Lynch $100 for playing "Boyne Water" in the streets of Brooklyn.

SUGAR STRIKE MAY GROW.

Report that All the Skilled Workmen Will Go Out To-Night.

Some of the striking sugar handlers in Williamsburg claimed today that all the skilled mechanics would go out this evening, when the day shift and night shift are changed. This is not authoritative, however, for the leaders refuse to say anything about it.

The skilled mechanics in the sugar-house and the engineers, firemen, mixers and the skilled workmen generally, who are union men almost without an exception.

There are about four hundred of these men and nearly ten times as many laborers. The latter have had no organization since their disaffiliation six or seven years ago, but the skilled workers go out every thing will have to stop.

Several of the striking sugar handlers were in the Lee Avenue Court today. James J. McGee, 30 South Fifth street, was fined $100 for playing "Boyne Water" in the streets of Brooklyn.

MAY BE A MILLIONAIRE'S SON.

At Any Rate, Jersey Justice Closed an Eye This Time.

The identity of the young man who was arrested in the Pennsylvania depot in Jersey City yesterday and who was hailed out by President Pecker, of the Jersey City Board of Public Commissioners, was not revealed in Police Court this morning. He gave the name of J. S. Sheldon, but the Justice knew it was fictitious.

Sheldon is said to be son of a New York millionaire and a member of the Princeton college football team. It was evident that the police desired to conceal his identity, for his case was railroaded and he was discharged.

The young man fell asleep in the depot, and upon being awakened started in to whip the disturber of his slumbers. It required the united strength of two policemen to take him to the station.

BEATING THE ASTOR HOUSE.

Manager Keith Suspected a Walter and a Cashier.

Manager Keith, of the Astor House, appeared as complainant in the Tombs Court this morning against Jacob Elmer, a waiter employed there.

Mr. Keith said that the management suspected that there was collusion between the waiter and a cashier at the hotel, and in support of this he produced a false fire alarm from box 374, at Twenty-third street and Ninth avenue yesterday afternoon, was straggled in the Jefferson Market Court today. Kane was in full uniform, and was immediately taken before the Justice.

Kane still insisted that he had been asked to ring the bell, call an ambulance, and in support of this he produced one John Dowling, of 425 West Thirtieth street, who stated that he had requested Kane to ring the alarm to call an ambulance, and these statements convinced the Justice that Kane could not be the person guilty of sending in the many false alarms during the past thirty-six hours, and also that his intention was strictly honest.

The court thought that it would be well to impose a penalty upon Kane to impress upon him the seriousness of such an offense as he was charged with, and also fined him $10 for each false alarm.

Kane at once paid the fine and left court surrounded by his friends.

LETTER-CARRIER FINED $3.

Kane Proven Not to Be the False Fire Alarm Sender.

Thomas F. Kane, the young letter-carrier attached to Post-office station E, charged with malicious mischief in sending in a false fire alarm from box 374, at Twenty-third street and Ninth avenue yesterday afternoon, was straggled in the Jefferson Market Court today. Kane was in full uniform, and was immediately taken before the Justice.
